PLANNING FOR AN EARLY RETIREMENT

We have always been saving/investing for our future goals. Investors regularly squirrel out money from their limited incomes for their big future objectives, for their house, first car, kids education, weddings, medical needs, emergencies, retirement, etc. However, people's needs and preferences are changing and hence the goals have evolved over time. Buying the first car has overtaken the first house in many investors' priority lists.

Little luxuries like watches, purses, frequent vacations, dining in top hotels, etc., have found love for them among Indian consumers. A lot of young students as well as professionals are also inclined to pursue their passions like trekking, yoga, learning foreign languages, etc. Another change which is increasingly being witnessed among the millennials is the desire to retire early. The retirement target age for many has remarkably gone down from 60 to 50, some even want to retire as early as 45 or 40.

While it's a good idea to retire early and pursue your passions, travel the world, while you are relatively young and healthy, but can you really afford it?

Financially, retiring a decade earlier means 10 fewer years of regular income, translating into 10 less years of saving for retirement, and 10 extra years of only outflow. At the age of 35, with not much saving and investment, no proceeds from inherited property coming your way, not many valuable assets, thinking to retire in the next 10 years may not make much sense. But is it possible? We would say only if the required time and planning is in place.

Before one retires, he/she must have provided for the following:

- → Discharged major financial obligations, like having a home, having kids' education and marriage expenses covered, etc.
- → Have adequate insurances in place to take care of any uncertainties.
- > No outstanding loans or debt.
- → Adequate retirement corpus to support you for a long duration.

Early retirement may sound challenging, but achievable if approached right. Here are some points which can help accomplish the above, and let you dream for an early retirement.

1. Make a proper plan and keep your place. finances in Look for knowledgeable and trustworthy financial advisor and convey your intentions of retiring early along with your other goals, your exact financial standing, assets and liabilities, etc., to the advisor. With the help of your advisor. devise a comprehensive financial plan, which will be a step by step action plan to reach your ultimate destination, your early retirement, while providing for all your goals that come on the way.

2. Start investing for your Retirement as soon as you start earning. Take up the last goal first, start saving and investing for your Retirement from the day you start earning, the sooner you start, you are simply buying yourself more time for being better equipped for the D-Day. You can start with a small SIP and increase gradually as you age and your income increases. While starting soon is important and will give you an edge, but it's not the end, the journey too is demanding.

A blend of the following, practiced over your working life should help you save enough for your goal:

- Spend Wisely,

- Save Aggressively,
- Invest Generously
- 3. Choose the right asset class. Apart from disciplined investing, one thing that can make a lot of difference and contribute immensely to your retirement kitty is the return from your investment. An 8% RD versus an Equity SIP with an average return of 12%, of ₹ 10,000 per month will fetch you ₹ 91.5 lacs and ₹ 1.7 Crore respectively, in 25 years. A difference of just 4% in return almost doubled the corpus over the same time period. You have a huge investment horizon in hand, complemented with the ability to take risk because of the time, invest in products with good growth potential and make the most of compounding.
- 4. Ensure a debt free life at the earliest. A prerequisite to retiring early, is being Debt Free. So, start paying off your loans, start with high cost debt like credit cards and personal loans and gradually move to car and home loans. Also, about loans, don't unnecessarily burden yourself with them. When you have prioritized your needs, and an early retirement occupies the top position, let's strive to achieve it, don't go for a 3 Bhk house when a 2 Bhk meets your requirements. Or why go for an expensive SUV for a nuclear family, when a mid segment hatchback or sedan does the job.

5. You can still make money after retirement. Fortunately, for many who wish to retire early, retirement doesn't really mean putting a full stop to earning. Many would be planning to work freelance, as consultants, trainers or run things like blogs, youtube channels, etc. These things can be clubbed with a retired life long with pursuing your passions. Many would also like to build a secondary income source, say rent from additional property, share of profits from some business as a passive investor, and so on. These things would likely bring in some cash flow which can be great for your retirement plans. The point is being well planned and prepared before taking the plunge.

6. Invest your retirement corpus wisely. Investment management is a never ending process and it will continue even after your retirement. Your retirement corpus should provide you with regular income, if needed, to meet your routine expenses. There are various asset class options like real estate, fixed interest bearing instruments, small saving schemes, etc., which can give you a regular income. However, the investing factors like risk appetite, income needs, liquidity needs, longevity needs, etc. Thus, debt mutual funds and balance funds with SWP (Systematic Withdrawal Plan) option, can be looked at for your post retirement investment planning. While a debt fund will give steady, relatively risk free returns, a balanced fund will also give an opportunity to make the corpus grow and thus last longer, albeit with a bit of more risk.

To conclude, pursuing for an early retirement is, you are bargaining for an extended period of time from life to let you experience the beauty this planet, from your heart and soul. However, retiring early, as attractive as it sounds, needs unadulterated devotion and commitment on your part. Once you have made up your mind that you want to retire early, infidelity with retirement planning can wreck your aspirations.

FOCUS ON THE WHY, NOT THE WHAT

The journey is often more important than the destination. However, there are many amongst us who focus so much on the destination that the journey or path doesn't matter to them. This is also unfortunately true with investments where the journey or the path you take is more critical than the destination and if wronged, you may end up hurting yourself. This journey is about selecting the right products, asset allocation, investment strategy, etc., that you will be adopting in your search to reach your financial goals.

So, the focus today is a lot more on the destination. When a financial advisor suggests you to invest in a product, the first question most people would ask is "Return kitna Milega?" And that's where the whole purpose of investing gets defeated. It's because of this obsession with returns, that investment providers talk in terms that we want to hear, i.e. Returns. Even when it comes to Insurance, the traditional life insurance providers propagate their product in terms of Returns, "You'll get double the amount you invest, after 20 years". While the fundamental concept behind insurance is risk protection and not return generation, you should not be getting the claim while you are alive, it's your family who should be getting the insurance money, 'an adequate amount'- probably double than what you paid may not suffice, in your absence.

lot of people invested cryptocurrencies in the last few years. We saw the Bitcoin growing almost 100 times over three years, only to fall back to a third of it's value, in six months time. Many investors got their fingers burnt during the Bitcoin adventure ride. Why did they lose? Or may be Why did they invest? What was their investment's horizon? They just invested for Returns, they too wanted to take a sip of the spurt in prices, little did they know that Bitcoin was about to start backpedaling.

The logic behind investing lies in the need to invest, and investment is about connecting the underlying need with the investment product. We should invest in something primarily because it must connect the dots, serve our goals. Returns are important, but it is just one important facet of investing. There might be a product offering a higher return than another, but the latter may be more suitable for you.

So, when you invest, your focus should be on "the Why", you are investing. Returns lure. Everyone wants more money, but this fascination comes with side effects, when it becomes the sole purpose for investing.

→ The attachment to returns work adversely in volatile times, and it gets reflected in our behavior. When the returns from our investment are in the reverse gear, we want to do everything possible to cut losses, many investors even end up selling the investment because they cannot digest losing money. But in our quest to lose less, we forget the objective why we invested in the first place. We invested for a goal probably which is years away. Your investments will not perform all the time, there will be good and bad days, quality investment will swim through all currents and help you achieve your goals over the long term. So, you need to give that opportunity, that time to the investment to prove it's worth.

→ Returns work as a bait to lead people into Market Timing. People want to enter at the most opportune moment, make money and exit just before the fall, registering handsome gains on the deal. You can make a lot of money in one deal by timing the market, but this approach is not sustainable over longer periods of time, because you will also lose money in another deal. Nobody can predict the direction of the markets, and you cannot be lucky all the time. An investor cannot create wealth and fulfill his life goals by timing the market, for the timing cannot be perfect always.

→ A bi-product of market timing is frequent switching from one investment to another. People invested in equity in 2007-08, when the markets were at their highs, then when Equity started loosing its charm, and gold prices were gaining momentum, people switched from Equity to gold, making huge losses in Equity. Gold rallied above ₹31,000, and then started regressing, as a result investors started to explore other asset classes, Equity and Real Estate. So, these investors who kept switching from one asset class to another over this period of around 8 years, with their entire energy focused towards higher returns all this while, are likely to have incurred tremendous losses. What we need to understand is, if one asset classes is doing good when your investment is not, doesn't mean you should switch to the front runner, don't join the bandwagon because it's attractive today, concentrate on your goals and believe in your choice.

Having said the above, it doesn't mean that you shouldn't look at the investment's return potential. Higher returns compounded over a long period of time, can make a substantial difference and take you a lot closer to your goals. So, returns are a very important determinant while choosing the investment but it is not the primary factor.

Regular review and buying and selling of investments is also a part of the investment process. You might have to sell for your goals have arrived, needs have changed, asset allocation has changed, or just because it was a bad investment decision. Overall the activity must be driven by your need, and not just superior returns.

The idea is, everytime you are about to take an investment decision, just ask yourself Why. Why do you want to invest? Or Why did you invest?, in case you are selling your investment. The answer to the Why will prevent you from falling into the Returns trap. Don't chase returns, stick to the fundamentals.

FUND MANAGER INTERVIEWS

Devang Shah

Dy Head - Fixed Income

Devang Shah is a fixed income fund manager for domestic funds managed by Axis Asset Management Company. He has over 14 years of overall experience in the fixed income markets of which 11 years have been spent in investing across duration strategies, and credit. He has been actively involved in ideation, sourcing and investment strategy for fixed income funds

Devang holds a bachelors of commerce from Mumbai University and was a gold medalist in financial management. He is also an associate member of the Institutes of Chartered Accountants of India. He has previously worked with ICICI Prudential AMC, Deutsche AMC & Pricewaterhouse Coopers.

Q. What is your outlook on the current debt market conditions and yield curves?

Answer: Bond yields have significantly gone up in the last year. Amongst others, key domestic reasons for this up move include the risks of a fiscal breach and bottoming of inflation. Global factors associated with rising global yields in the developed world and concerns over rising crude have further accentuated concerns of foreign investors. The RBI's move to conduct OMO sales to the tune of Rs 90,000 Cr has also aggravated the situation.

We have seen an upward movement of 150 bps across the curve since Sep 2017. At this current juncture, we believe that the market is pricing in 50 bps of rate hikes till March 2019. Long bonds will continue to remain volatile on the back of rising crude prices and a possible fiscal breach in the current year. Short bonds currently trade with a 200bps spread over the overnight rates. 1-3 year bonds hence continue to look attractive from a risk reward perspective. We believe that the macro environment in India is stable and do not see any risk of fiscal instability. Further, we believe that RBI would continue to focus on inflation and hence looking at the trajectory we believe that the RBI will hike rates by 50 bps by the end of the current financial year.

Q. Do rising fuel prices pose any challenges to same? How do you assess the inflation trend going forward?

Answer: Rising crude is likely to have a material impact to the economy from a BoP standpoint as India imports almost 80% of its total oil needs. However, the recent inflation prints have been well within the RBI's mandate of 4% ± 2%. The RBI highlighted key risks to inflation in its latest monetary policy statement and minutes specifically identifying, increase in Minimum Support Prices of key crops and potentially some imported inflation thanks to oil and the Rupee. However, we continue to believe that inflation will remain well within the RBI's band.

Q. The rupee falling below Rs.71 to the US dollar also made recent headlines. Which sectors will face the impact, positively or otherwise, because of same?

Answer: Our focus on the debt side has largely remained towards domestically driven stories with strong credit profiles across the ratings spectrum. Like our equity fund house view, we like the consumption theme. We have added selectively across auto ancillaries, cement, media in our debt portfolios. Further we have also liked a few annuity projects in the roads space and the power transmission space. Both these are government backed entities.

Q. Please throw some light on how foreign entities have been lately participating in the debt markets?

Answer: YTD we have seen FII redeeming \sim $6 billion from the debt markets in India since the start of the calendar year. We believe that as a large part of the currency move has happened, further incremental outflows are unlikely given the strong domestic macro environment and the high real rates (150bps) currently available to investors.

Q. What has been your duration and credit strategy in the current markets? How do you believe your funds present a better choice to investors?

Answer: Looking at the current market environment, we believe that the entire fixed income curve is pricing in a 50bps hike as mentioned earlier. Long bonds will continue to remain volatile on the back of factors mentioned earlier. Short bonds currently trade with a 200bps spread over the overnight rates. 1-3 year bonds hence continue to look attractive from a risk reward perspective.

In anticipation of the upward rate movement and liquidity tightness we had reduced our maturities in the last 3 months. In this current market sell-off we have returned to add duration selectively across our funds through a combination of 1-3 year corporate bonds and 3-4-year G-Sec & SDLs. Since the last 18 months we also selectively added credit to our portfolios. We link the credit cycle and the economic growth cycle and conclude that the credit cycle is likely to see an uptick.

As risk managers we apply the SLR (Safety, liquidity & return) concept to our investment process while managing all our funds.

Q. What is your advice to investors looking for superior returns in safer avenues? Which debt funds would you suggest them to invest in with medium to long term horizons?

Answer: Our overall fund house view on the debt space as stated above has been to look at shorter term investment strategies in the 1-3-year space. Roll down strategies are an ideal solution for investors looking to park funds with a 3 year or longer view. Axis Banking & PSU Debt Fund currently operates on this strategy and is ideal for investors looking to invest in highly rated instruments of banking companies and public sector undertakings. Coupled with better tax incidence and higher YTM's in the current interest rate scenarios, investors are likely to benefit in the medium to long term.

Alternatively, credit funds with a shorter duration structures like Axis Strategic Bond Fund & Axis Credit Risk Fund offer investors a dynamic portfolio of highly rated securities and a mix of lower rated securities across the rating spectrum.

Mutual Fund's AUM rises 14% to ₹24 lakh crore in Sept quarter

Mutual fund's asset base rose to over ₹24 lakh crore in July-September quarter, a 14 per cent surge from the year-ago period, driven participation from retail investors and a spirited investor awareness campaign by the industry. The asset base of the industry, comprising 41 players, was ₹23.4 lakh crore in the preceding three months, showing a growth of just 2.5 per cent on quarterly basis, according to the data by Association of Mutual Funds in India (AMFI). The total asset base of all the fund houses put together was ₹21 lakh crore in July-September 2017. Industry experts attributed year-on-year growth to strong participation from retail investors, especially from the smaller towns. Besides, investor awareness campaigns by the industry and phenomenal growth in systematic investment plans also helped in the growth of assets under management. The industry has been witnessing evolved behaviour from the retail mutual fund investors, as despite the continued market volatility, the equity inflows into markets continue to be robust.

ADB upbeat on India, keeps FY19 growth forecast unchanged at 7.3%

India's economy continues on a robust growth path, the Asian Development Bank (ADB) said Wednesday while maintaining the growth forecast for the current fiscal at 7.3 per cent. However, depreciation of the rupee and volatile external financial markets pose challenges, the multilateral lending agency added, in an update of its flagship annual economic publication, the Asian Development Outlook (ADO) 2018. Growth remains stable across most of developing Asia due to robust domestic demand, buoyant oil and gas prices and a consolidation of India's growth rebound, it said. On India, the report said its economy continues on a robust growth path.

Modi govt cuts gross market borrowings by ₹700 billion for FY19

Armed with augmented resources from small savings, the government will cut gross market borrowings by ₹700 billion for 2018-19 to finance its fiscal deficit, which is expected to remain within the targeted 3.3 per cent of gross domestic product (GDP). The move, along with measures of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), is expected to ease pressure on bond yields and liquidity. For the second half, the government will mop up ₹2.47 trillion as market borrowings, which include issuances inflation-linked bonds. While the target of net market borrowing will be retained, that for buybacks will be reduced. Also, small savings will give additional resources to the government, after raising interest rates on them.

India's external debt declines 2.8% to $514.4 bn at June end: RBI

India's external debt declined 2.8 per cent to $514.4 billion at June-end over the previous quarter on account of a decrease in commercial borrowings, short-term debt and non-resident Indian (NRI) deposits, the RBI has said. At end-June 2018,

NEWS UPDATE

Minister Manoj Sinha has said. Although the Minister did not share specific details, he said FDI would be the key to unleash the full potential of upcoming technologies like M2M, machine learning, artificial intelligence and internet of things. India lost its chance to get full advantage of the first industrial revolution, but we cannot afford to miss the bus now. India must not only be a pioneer in rolling out these technologies but also in developing them.
